Dear Emma,

Thank you for leaving your tooth where I could find it safely.

I examined it very carefully tonight, and I discovered something special growing inside it.

Your tooth held a strong spark of kindness.

That special quality grows every time you help others feel included and cared for.

Many grown-ups forget that children are still becoming who they are meant to be. But every lost tooth tells part of the story. Yours showed signs of someone who is learning, growing, and helping make the world a little better.

Tonight, I used a little bit of the magic from your tooth to help a frightened baby owl safely find its way back to its nest.

Even small qualities can make a very big difference.

I left this money as a thank-you for your tooth and the important qualities growing inside you.

Please continue brushing carefully. Clean, healthy teeth hold onto their magic much better.

Use your thank-you money in a way that keeps a little goodness going.
